

EcoBroker Burke Sisco specializes in bike-friendly communities

Burke Sisco has completed intensive training in energy and environmental issues related to real estate transactions and excels as one of Georgia's very first Certified EcoBrokers®. In addition to energy-efficient, eco-friendly features of the house itself, Burke focuses on a niche market of location-efficient housing. These homes are generally found Intown Atlanta within some of the city's more bike-friendly neighborhoods and village settings, and often in proximity to MARTA, bike paths, and the coming BeltLine. He calls these properties "wheel estate." The BeltLine will eventually feature a 33+ mile loop of trail, allowing owners of wheel estate to enjoy a healthy lifestyle of connected communities with a reduced reliance on their cars.
